Hepburn, W. M. = Purdue?

June 4th, 1918

Mr. W. M. Hepburn,

The Library, Purdue University.

My dear Hepburn:

I would have written you before but was waiting first to get a sight of Mr. Robert Liddle. I have made inquiries from the Aeronautic School which is in the University but so far have been unable to secure any information with regard to him. I am to be in Toronto off and on till the beginning of July, so that I may see him still and I shall of course do anything I can for him, though our house is now closed.

I am glad to have hears from you again, and hope that you and yours are keeping well. I was in Pictou for a day and a half last summer and saw very little change in the place except that so far as I could judge the people whos I used to know are growing very few. Hoping that you are enjoying your work, with kind regards,

I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.
